

There are a number of web sites related to underwater diving. Some may contain information that may be useful when investigating underwater diving fatalities. A few are listed below, and links to other underwater diving web sites are contained within them.

The Divers Alert Network has a diving incident reporting mechanism and other information related to underwater diving. It may be accessed at <http://www.diversalertnetwork.org>

The NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) diving manual may be viewed at <http://www.noaa.gov>

The PADI (Professional Association of Diving Instructors) web site is at <http://www.padi.com>

Doc's Diving Medicine web site (underwater medicine information) may be accessed at <http://faculty.washington.edu/ekay>